

N5 Philosophy

Course Overview

There are 3 key units of study:

- Arguments in Action
A unit which develops knowledge and understanding of arguments and the ability to analyse.
- Knowledge and Doubt
This area of study is based on the work of Descartes and Hume.
- Moral Philosophy
Candidates demonstrate knowledge and understanding of utilitarianism and Kantian ethics and their application to given situations or issues, and respond to quotations.

Homework

- Pupils should regularly go over their notes and revise that week's work at home.
- Pupils should catch up on missed work at home or attend a catch up/revision session.
- Any homework tasks will be displayed on Show My Homework.
- Upcoming assessments will be displayed in the assessment calendar.
- If homework or essays are late, feedback is not guaranteed.

Revision/Catch Up Sessions

- Teacher is available 1 lunchtime per week to help pupils to catch up with missed work or go over anything that needs clarifying.
- After school revision sessions may be offered before significant assessment opportunities and if there is interest. The format for this may be online this year.

Support Available for Pupils

- Adapted booklets to make the content more accessible for pupils with literacy difficulties. Available upon request.
- All lesson materials available to pupils via Teams.
- Pupils are free to use iPad accessibility tools as required.
- Pupils have Miss Fyfe's email address and are free to email at any time.
